

81% of the world has a complete Bible

BUT ONLY

54%

have one they can
LEGALLY SHARE

Top languages still lacking
a modern Bible translation with no quotation limits

Russian	154 million
Japanese	125 million
Korean	82 million
Turkish	79 million
Malay	77 million

Let's copy, church calls for all Christians to give up their rights for the sake of the gospel by freely dedicating ministry resources to the public domain—so they can be copied, shared, translated, and adapted without restriction.

Few Christians realize how restrictive copyright actually is. While Bible publishers appear generous, most major translations permit little beyond what fair use already allows—making God's Word no easier to share than any other secular book.

Let's copy, church
/copy.church/

